Mr. Absalom says: History Repeats Itself.

Red, white, and blue, patriotic colors. Gold, white, and black, school colors. Put the two together and they clash; but there is a pure strain of white running through that amounts to something. Each color, though, has the ability to connote a special meaning all its own . . .

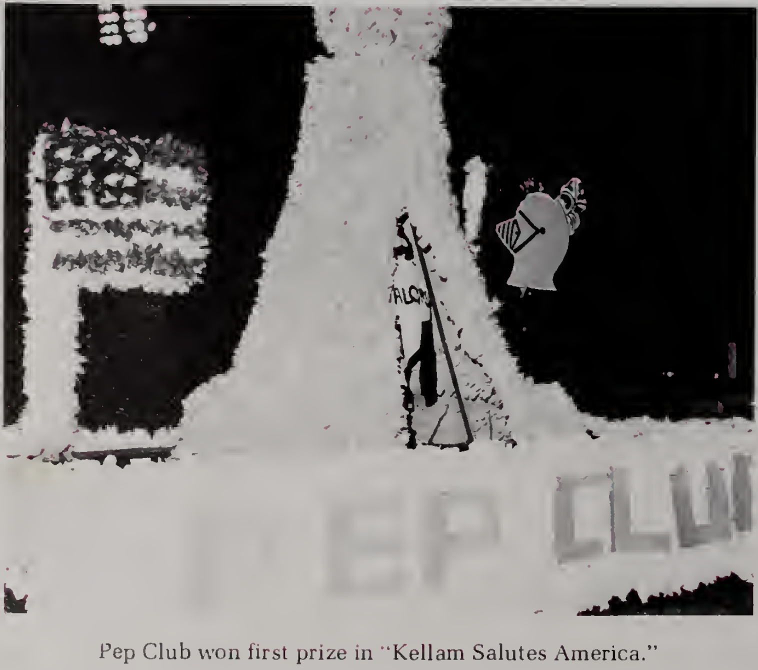
Kellam Victorious in

Cathy Coppino was crowned the 1970 Homecoming Queen.



Pep Club won first prize in "Kellam Salutes America."

Kellam Knights charged into the Cox Falcons gaining victory in Kellam's Sixth Homecoming. "Kellam Salutes America" was the 1970 Homecoming theme which dominated the evening's festivities. Highlights included the coronation of the 1970 Queen, the announcement of the prize-winning floats after the grand parade, the half-time performances by the band and drill team members, the outcome of the game, and the Homecoming Dance. The 1969 Queen, Holly Baker, returned to relinquish her crown to senior Cathy Coppino. Float themes renged from the first historic lunar landing, with the Pep Club taking first prize. At half-time the drill team marched to the tune of the Marlboro Theme with each girl carrying a separate flag. After a victorious game, Kellam alumni, for the first time, joined those who attended the Homecoming Dance, hopefully starting a new school tradition.

The "Sunshine Bowl" first came about after a winless season for both the Knights and the Falcons. One team had to walk away with a victory, bringing a little sunshine into otherwise rainy seasons.

Sugar and spice and everything nice; that's what little girls are made of! What is a 1970 Homecoming made of? People, cheerleaders who make big banners for the football players to run through . . . . .

. . . . . little girls who cheer and twirl batons perhaps better than the big girls, band and drill team members who entertain and march at pregame and halftime festivities, a puppy that gives our Knights love and encouragement, a queen and her court, a parade of floats, and loads of people to cheer the charging team on. That's what a 1970 Homecoming is made of!!

Miss Kellam

Now, where did I put it? ponders Mary Beddingfield, one of the ten contestants.

Mona Lisa Nunez models one of the outfits she wore during one phase of the night's entertainment.

Guiding the 1971 pageant was Mrs. Kappa Robinson.

May Hosts Fourth Beauty Pageant

May 8, 1971, was a day that ten junior girls awaited anxiously. Why just ten girls, and why May 8th? The answer is simple, it is the day that Miss Kellam for the 1971-1972 school year is coronated.

Contestants for the contest were Mary Beddingfield, Pat Campbell, Sandy Craft, Charlene Ferguson, Beverly Frost, Jeri Moore, Mona Lisa Nunez, Bethann Thorpe, Edith Van Luyen, and Cathy White. The girls were selected on the basis of being a junior, having a "C" average, projecting both personality and talent.

The program of the pageant starts with the girls modeling formal wear followed by sportswear, all the girl's own outfits. Talent competition follows next; then, the finalists are asked individual questions. Miss Congeniality, who is selected by the girls themselves, and Miss Kellam are then announced. Judges for the contest sponsored by Epsilon Tri-Hi-Y were Miss Vicki Randall, Mrs. Barbara Lewis, Miss Elke Meyer, and Mr. Richard Guy.

Miss Kellam, Mona Lisa Nunez, received a scholarship from John Robert Powers Modeling School. Bethann Thorpe was awarded the honor of Miss Congeniality.

Junior Terri Sawyer makes a dash, but senior Terry Solner grabs a flag to end the play.

Senior practices were often a messy, tiring business, but with the assistance from Coach Ammons they were well-rewarded.

The Seniors led by Coach Roy Ammons, defeated the "Jivin' Juniors" in the annual Powder Puff game. Both teams practiced often in the cold, the rain, and the mud, yielding two strong teams with good morals. Half-time was highlighted with the antics of the drill team and the selection of the Powder Puff Queen from among candidates Jack Adams, Craig Davis, Charlie Foreman, Steve Hallead, Tom Leahy, Al Scherman, and Lloyd Williams. Charlie Foreman, second runner-up, and Lloyd Williams, third runner-up, assisted in the coronation of Queen, Craig Davis.

Cheerleaders kept the action rolling with their water-balloon and pie-throwing, occasionally hitting an innocent but amused bystander. A winning score of 12-6 put another star in the Senior Class's crown.

Senior Terry Solner makes a break towards the goal, but will she make it?

The Junior Cheerleaders may have the legs, but the Seniors have the shapes??

Drama Department Excels Behind The Scenes And On The Boards For Creative And Inspiring Year

The Drama Department, along with the Drama Club and the International Thespians, combined talents to produce an entertaining year for Kellam students.

Our Town, by Thornton Wilder, succeeded in portraying small town life where life and death are taken as common, everyday events.

The Senior Class play, Love Comes In Many Colors, was presented on February 26 and 27. Concerning itself with the emotional problems one is faced when dating people parents term as "unacceptable," the play was a novel hit.

The Miracle Worker was one of the hardest plays to produce due to the fact that several members of the cast had to learn sign language. The play was exceedingly well done; but due to the lack of student participation at previous functions, was only presented one evening.

After serving the school all year with entertainment and the grueling backstage work that accompanies every production, the "stars" were entertained at the Third Annual Kelly Awards program on May 27. There, the outstanding people who devoted their time and talents to the dramatic arts were recognized.

Miss Rhett Pridgen, drama director, devoted much of her time to the guidance of drama students to produce the best possible for themselves and others.

Regina Hawk and Becky Williams starred in LOVE COMES IN MANY COLORS, a play concerned with parental disapproval of those termed "unacceptable."

"Father, if you'd only just listen!" pleads Becky Williams as her father, Frank Babonis refuses to accept Barry Bradberry as being "acceptable."

Steven Johnson, Stage Manager of Our Town, breaks in on the play's action to insert background information about the Gibbs and Webb families who live in Grovers Corners, New Hampshire.

Debbie Alderman and Chris Cleven portray Emily Webb and George Gibbs, newlyweds in Our Town. The love story of Emily and George is that representative of young people in small towns who grow up, date, marry, have children, and die.

"But I thought you said that YOU were going to do that before he went on stage!!"

"It's not our fault that they won't allow you inside, Millard!!"

Camelot began to swing

Juniors Revel at Ring Dance — A Knight In Camelot

Numerous spectacular events give significance to a Junior's year. One event that most certainly deserves notation is the Junior Ring Dance which has a history common to that of others, confusion denoting the period of preparation. Preparation included the Junior Class Candy Sale, decorating, purchasing refreshments, selling invitations, designing programs, and securing chaperones; all of which was just a part of the work the Ring Dance Committees did. Also, preparation in the purchasing of gowns, accessories, corsages, and renting dinner jackets was placed on those who attended the dance. The result of this preparation was turrets, draw bridges, and excalibur, ladies-in-waiting and their handsome knights who dramatized the medieval setting for the theme of "A Knight In Camelot".

Music by Charlie McClendon and the Magnificents and the receiving of class rings created an aura of excitement at the White Sands Country Club. Proud juniors could be seen everywhere finding friends in order to have them turn rings.

Fay Ryan and Max Haslip take a short break to munch some refreshments.

"Alright now, the agreement was arm's length."

after the Knights arrived!

"It's either this ice tea, lemonade, or . . ."

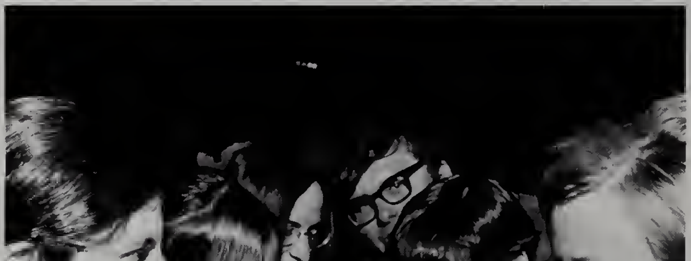
The camera-shy juniors wait patiently in line to have their pictures taken.



"By the time we've had our rings turned sev-en-ty-tw-o-o times, . . . we'll need rings two sizes larger!!"

"Tommy, I feel I must tell you this — my girdle is killing me."

those crazy threads?"

Even juniors must rest sometime!!!

And the band played on.

"You didn't really lose the invitation, did you?!?"

"We've Only Just Begun" . . .

"We've only just begun to live
White lace and promises
A kiss for luck — and we're on our way
And yes, we've just begun"

Seniors have just begun to live; graduation is only the starting point in their lives. One of the more spectacular events in the senior's year is the prom, with all the frills and excitement.

Shiny, satiny birds, delicate net butterflies, glitter, and ivy trellises set the light mood that enhanced the evening with the aid of Charlie McClendon and the Magnificents. From nine to one, White Sands Country Club was a fragile aura of approximately 175 couples.

Two highlights accented the evening of May 15; the Senior Class presented Miss Inez Bryan with a token of their appreciation, a ruby and pearl cocktail ring; Gamma Sigma awards were given out to seniors attending the prom by last year's senior class president, Mike Ives.

"No, the custom of kissing under the mistletoe does not apply to chandeliers!"

Ricky Shurtz and Cathy Perkins enjoy the music of Charlie McClendon and the Magnificients.

Eighteen Seniors Selected For Gamma Sigma

Out of 452 graduating seniors, eighteen were awarded Gamma Sigma, an award with which the senior class honors its outstanding seniors. It is awarded on the basis of school service and dedication during the junior and senior years of a candidate.

Five percent of the students in the senior class are eligible to receive Gamma Sigma. A team consisting of five seniors, Miss Bryan, class sponsor, and Mr. Davis select the students who, from among the applicants, best qualify and merit the coveted honor of Gamma Sigma.

Gamma Sigma awards are given out at the Senior Prom, and also at the first senior homeroom thereafterward. Those honored this year by the Senior Class were Barry Bradberry, Lorine Bryant, Randy Callahan, Dennis Castello, Debbie Danklefs, Charlie Foreman, Rick Futrell, John Hargrove, Wendy Howell, Larry Laramay, Tom Leahy, Melanie Moniot, Cathy Perkins, John Sachon, Steve Skillman, Laymon Styron, Penny Surdoval, and Bob Van Horne.

Commencement Days Sparkle With Sunshine, Hopes And Dreams

The biggest events in a senior's life are not, as one might expect, the prom, or Senior Awards Day, or Homecoming, or anything such as that. As a matter of fact, the last thing a student, as a senior, attends — baccalaureate and graduation — are.

On June 6, at three in the afternoon, seniors attended their religious service. After a sermon entitled "The Seven Wonders of the World," delivered by Reverend Richard Woodard, the seniors departed to meet the following Wednesday for graduation practice.

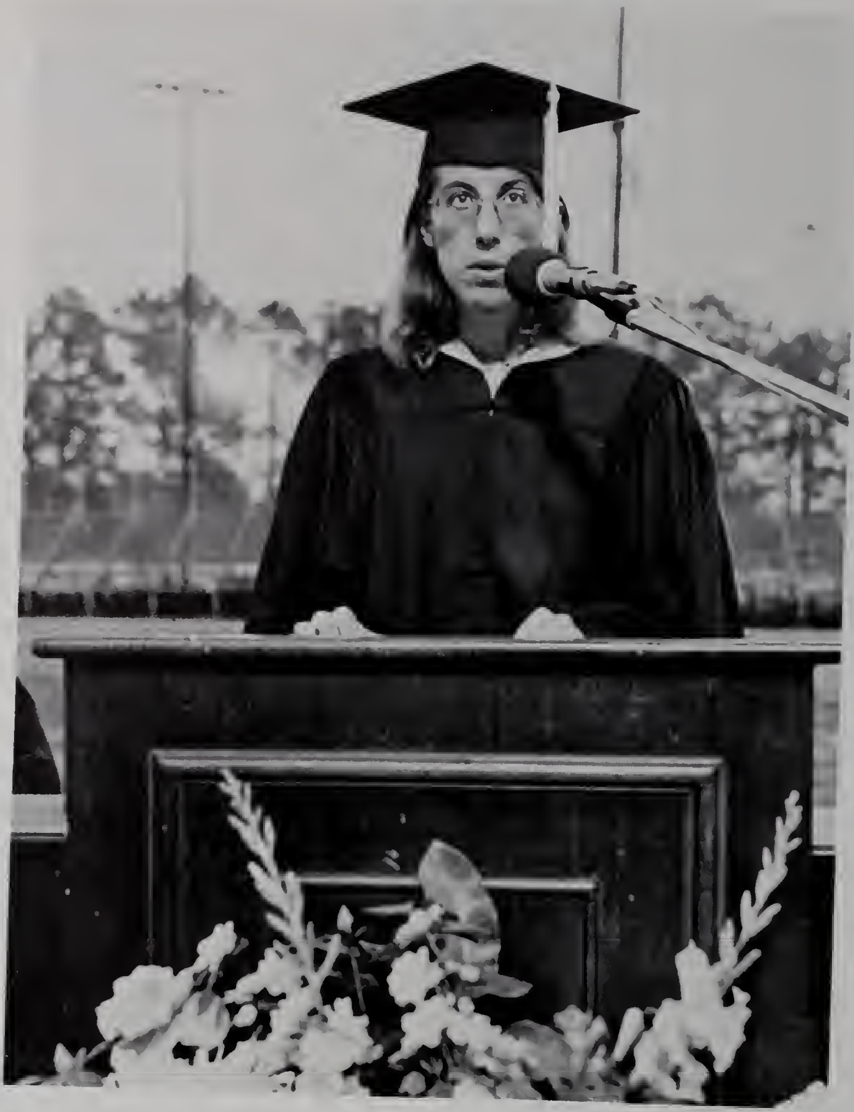
Nervous anticipation marked the evening of June 10: 452 seniors anxiously awaited the start of their commencement exercise at eight in the evening. After an invocation by Reverend Clayton Crigger and speeches by valedictorian Debbie Danklefs, and salutatorian Bob VanHorne, Mr. George Tepo, vice-principal, in the absence of principal Jefferson Davis, handed out the diplomas, marking the end of those years of formal education.

Floyd E. Kellam's commencement ceremonies took place at 8:00 p.m. in the school's stadium (top). Grinning ear-to-ear, Marcia Cauldwell accepts her diploma from Vice-principal George Tepo.

Seniors file in for their final phase of high school education.

The line-up, are you sure you know who did it?!

Speaking at commencement exercises were Re- erend Clayton Crigger, Mr. Tepo, Debbi Danklefs, and Bob VanHorne.



Valedictorian Debbie Danklefs gave a serious address about those who worked and those who didn't.

Reverend Cligger gave Seniors what they asked for, a sermon on the "Good News."

The behind-the-scenes people of Kellam were among those who received commendation by Mr. George Tepo.

Senior Class President, Bob VanHorne, gave his last comments to the class in his Salutatorian address.

"How do you like that, I'm re-a-lly graduating!"

"Me graduating, huh, you're kidding."

Come Graduation Time Seniors Still Don't Know Exactly What To Do . . .

"Oh yeah? Lemme try it again!"

"Who says I can't toot my own horn?"

"The Mod Squad"?!?

Blue is for teachers who devoted unselfishly their time to students. They have braved the school year, faced evaluations and trends, and have made better people out of everyone for it. They were the running thread that kept the seam of the school bound together.

Davis Views Students As Individuals And Not As A Student Group

While walking through the halls of Kellam, if you should happen to pass a tall, slender man with a friendly smile on his face and a ready greeting, you passed Kellam's principal, Mr. Jefferson Davis.

One of Mr. Davis' attributes that makes him an "unforgettable character" is the fact that he looks upon his student body as a group of individuals, not as a student group. His door is always open to any student who wishes to speak with him.

A native of the Tidewater area, Mr. Davis attended Norfolk High School where he was a halfback on the football team as well as center on the basketball team. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Elon College, and his Master of Arts from the College of William and Mary. The Purple Heart and the Air Medal were awarded to him for his heroic services during World War II.

Before becoming head of the faculty and student body at Kellam High School nine years ago, Mr. Davis was a teacher at Kempsville and Princess Anne High School, assistant principal of Oceana High School, and principal of Woodstock Elementary School.

"You wanted me, Mrs. Smith?"

Mr. Tepo is just as understanding and jovial inside his office. . .

Tepo Takes An Interest In Student Problems — Works For Cooperation

The person in charge of keeping order between the students and faculty at Floyd E. Kellam High School is Assistant Principal Mr. George Tepo. He takes a personal interest in the student's problems, and as is demonstrated in his own words, "would like to be able to know each student by name". Of course, in a school as large as Kellam with a student body of more than two thousand, this is an impossibility.

Previous to his assistant principalship, Mr. Tepo was a history and government teacher and the 1963 Athletic Director at Kellam.

Originally from Tamaqua, Pennsylvania, he played both offensive and defensive end and fullback for his high school football team, and while attending Virginia Polytechnic Institute and Fordham University, he also played the position of end. His football talents were claimed by the Boston Yanks, which are now the Baltimore Colts, with which he displayed his best performance as an end in the 1942 Sugar Bowl.

. . . as he is out of his office.

Miss Rountree Coordinates Teachers And Curriculum

The hidden force behind the coordination of the curriculum at Kellam is the assistant principal, Miss Shirley Rountree. It is she who does everything possible to assure a well planned, smooth-operating day at school.

This year, with a new seven bell schedule to accomodate the ever increasing number of students attending Floyd E. Kellam, Miss Rountree has done a commendable job.

Another challenge that presented itself to Miss Rountree this year was Evaluation Week in December. During that time when visiting educators evaluated all phases of educational life, it was she who saw to the coordination of the schedule the school followed.

As a former guidance counselor at Kellam, history teacher, and a director of religious education for the United States Government in Germany, Miss Rountree has a versatile background to assist her in meeting the constant demands of her present position.

No matter how good she feels, Miss Rountree is never as high up in the clouds as her planes.

Guidance Department Gives GATB Tests

The Guidance Department, headed by Mr. Wade Duke, Jr., strives for a closer working relationship between students, parents, administrators, and counselors. The counselor's primary objective is to help the student solve educational, vocational, and personal-social problems while striving to give the students a feeling of confidence in themselves as well as others.

Many students find their counselor an inspiration in their studies and in preparing them for the classes to be taken in later years. A student, through the advice of his counselor, may make satisfactory adjustments in areas that may be causing him difficulty.

This year, three new counselors have joined the staff. They are Mrs. Grace Meekins, Mrs. Sandra Mandrick, and Mrs. Frances Runzo.

Every year, counselors test all the students through various tests. This year, the Guidance Department teamed up with the State Employment Commission to give the GATB test to non-college bound seniors to determine their employment possibilities. The department also participated for the first time in the College Clearing House, sponsored by the Virginia Council on Higher Education. Preregistration was started earlier than usual this year because of class sizes and the new up-coming eight bell schedule.

Office Staff Assists Faculty, Student Body

Mrs. Simpson carefully removes a splinter from the finger of an "ailing" student.

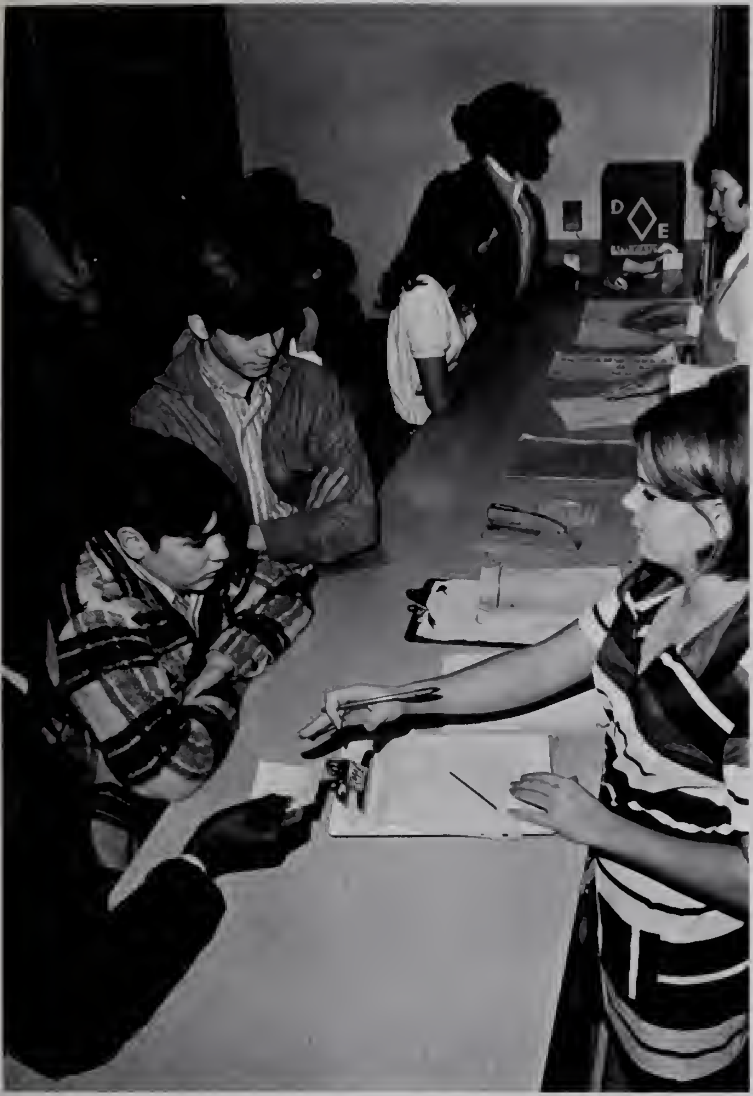
Mrs. Smith hunts through the files for a copy of a letter for Mr. Davis.

Signing in late? Need medication? Absent without an excuse? Forget something? Need advice or directions? Whatever the case may be, the office personnel and Mrs. Edith Simmons, school nurse, are ready to be of assistance.

Heading the office corps is Mrs. Phyllis Smith, assisted by Mrs. Betty Barrett, Mrs. Virginia Flora, Miss Mary Allen, and a group of student helpers that include Sharon St. Clair, Sandy Craft, Jane Eure, Beverly Carroll, Laura Dowdy, Jessie Havens, Stephanie Wright, Joe Pollock, Lorene Bryant, Debbie Green, Gale Falconer, Sharon Leggett, Cindy Stewart, Phyllis McClain, and Debbie Shirley. Assisting the administration, faculty and students with the financial phase of the school is Mrs. Hilda Cramer.

These people are responsible for many things beyond "routine" office work of answering phones, relaying messages, taking letters, and keeping accurate school records and reports. They also check in students who are tardy to school; check out those who have acceptable reasons for leaving before the day ends; register items for lost and found; run errands of all types throughout the school; make announcements over the intercom; and solve a hundred and one other, seemingly insignificant but not always, problems.

The major objective of the clinic is to prevent serious health problems from developing. Every year Mrs. Simmons and volunteer student helpers survey the students in physical education class to determine if any health problems do exist. This year Mrs. Simmons has the responsibility of handling all check-outs for doctor or dental appointments, and forwards these reports to the Virginia Beach School Board.



Mrs. Flora pauses to rest while balancing bookstore books.

With students checking in and out, the office is usually a very busy place in the morning. (top). Invading the accounting office, one usually finds Mrs. Cramer, her adding machine, and lots of money.

Pilot Study Program Adopted By School Librarians

The assistance of students in finding research material or material for personal pleasure is the function of the Library Staff. Head librarian is Mrs. Martha Owens, assistant librarian is Mrs. Kelly George, and library secretary is Mrs. Eleanor Holland. Without these three ladies' guidance, many students would have trouble with their everyday assignments.

A pilot Study Program, adopted in the Kellam library this year, was proposed by the head librarian, Mrs. Owens. This program is one in which a group of experimental students have access to cassette tapes and other sound-slide programs, while a control group uses the regular library benefits. These two groups will then be compared to determine which method would be of the most advantage to the majority of students. Eventually, this program will be open to all the students of Kellam. Financing this program is the Division of Educational Research and Statistics and the Virginia State Board of Education who have contributed approximately six thousand dollars worth of equipment such as cassettes, recorders, players, and a four-channel listening system installed in the library.

POW-MIA Movement Has Major Effect At Kellam High School

"If you have not tried building a cage out of bamboo and string, don't knock it!" (below) POW-MIA showcases such as this attracted much attention, concern, and response from students.

The POW-MIA movement which had a major effect on the country, also had a major effect on the Kellam High School student body. Many concerned students, for example, took part in the one hundred thousand signature drive by passing petitions around school.

Another group of students also took part in the POW movement. Under the sponsoring of Mrs. George Owens, head librarian of Kellam High School, the student library staff also passed around petitions, made buttons, put up posters, made show cases, and definitely made the Kellam student obviously aware of the plight of the American prisoners of war and men missing in action in Southeast Asia. Through their efforts, Kellam students took a more active part in the POW-MIA movement, and students have joined the organization with the hope that their attempts to help may result in the safe homecoming of all Americans from Southeast Asia.

Building displays, such as this cage, demonstrate the concer of students, especially these at Kellam.

Alan Sherman takes advantage of the channel system in the library.

English at Kellam has undergone many changes. All superior classes are using the Nebraska Curriculum, while the average students are experiencing a greater amount of group work. Remedial classes have changed, too, in that they have a greater number of diversified materials with which to work.

Students in Miss Inez Bryan, Miss Anne Frances Allen, and Mr. Victor Gregor's classes are participating in a Pilot-Study Program with the library. The Wireless Audio Library Learning System is divided into two groups: the experimental group has access to any audiovisuals in the library, including the new cassette tape library with its players and recorders; the control group has access only to regular library sources.

Speech classes, taught by Miss Mary Greene Ariail, strive for better speaking, speech interpretation and creative speaking.

Mrs. Florence Blankenship's journalism students put out the school newspaper, THE ROUNDTABLE. They are taught to write factually and at the same time creatively.

The reading classes have helped many students with problems related to basic phonics, reading speed, and comprehension. Mrs. Beatrice Sonner, who assists these students, understands these problems and attempts to correct them.

Special Education is set up for the remedial student who needs more personal attention. Mrs. Claudia Kight instructs these students in basic English, social studies, math and even some typing.

International Tea Sponsored By Department Of Foreign Languages For Sixth Year

Teaching languages, customs, and ways of life of peoples throughout the world is the main objective of the Foreign Language Department. Students who take a foreign language are given the opportunity to develop an appreciation and understanding of other countries' cultures and peoples.

Every year for the past six years, an International Tea has been held. This year there were skits performed, speakers presented, and Spanish art displayed. Participants were Foreign Language and Art students. Over seven hundred persons were in attendance. The Tea was sponsored by Mr. Carl Peterson, head of the Foreign Language Department, and the student chairman was Debbie Danklefs.

The American Institute of Foreign Study sponsors a program in which foreign language students have an opportunity to tour several foreign countries during the summer months at a nominal expense.

The Art Department, one of the divisions of the Fine Arts Department at Kellam, strives to develop the individual artistic talents of the students; to provide artistic enrichment through a study of art history and field trips, such as the one this year to the Norfolk Art Museum; and classes in Art I, II, and III include instruction in areas like basic design, sketching, pen and ink, clay, water color, batik, tapestry, sculpture, lineoleum cuts, and silk-screening.

Mr. Raymond Dorosz, Department Chairman, and Mrs. Mary Levi relate the basic elements and principles of design through critical thinking and analysis of other subjects and present day events. They stress the understanding of historical and cultural contributions of art in social development. From this the students are encouraged to apply independent knowledge, creativity and work.

During the Christmas season each year, the members of art classes contributed to the decorating of the cafeteria: this year the theme came from Dr. Seuss' work, How the Grinch Stole Christmas. Other events such as Evaluation Week, Open House, and the annual art show evidenced the efforts of this group.

Kellam Only School In City To Offer String Instruction — Hopes High For Orchestra

Captain Mona Lisa Nunez shows pride and form at Homecoming half-time.

Kellam's band, which is under the direction of Mr. Tom Swanson, offers the delights and joys of music to a wide segment of the student body. Steve Skillman, student director, drum major, and section leader of the French horns, served as right-hand man to these students and Mr. Swanson.

In order to instruct as many students as possible in their musical endeavors, the band is divided into three divisions according to the abilities of the student. The first division, "C" band, teaches beginning students how to read music and to play their instruments. The next division, "B" band, is for those students who have learned to read music, but who have not quite mastered their instruments. The last division, "A" band, is for those students who have reached a point of near perfection in playing their instruments.

Besides playing concerts and playing at football games, the band also played this year at the Knott's Island May Day Festival, in the Armed Forces Day Parade, and has been asked to play in May at Forman Field on behalf of a national charity.

At the District II Band Festival at Princess Anne High School in March, the band received an excellent rating in grade five compositions and was awarded a plaque. Medals were also awarded to individual band members.

Kellam's band is the only one in the city of Virginia Beach to offer instruction in string instruments such as the violin, viola, cello, and string bass. Mr. Swanson hopes that this will lead to the development of an orchestra next year.

Chorus students take some time out to sing leisurely around the piano.

Six Choral Members Attend Regional Chorus — Joe Allen Selected For All-State Chorus

The major objective of the Chorus Department, led by Mr. Frank Tatem, is to learn music in all its phases and to achieve both a sense of accomplishment and pleasure from its study. There are four choruses within the department: the Mixed Chorus, Concert Chorus, the Girl's Chorus, and Madrigals.

The Concert Chorus and Madrigals performed in numerous concerts throughout the year. They joined other area choirs in singing at Military Circle Mall; had a Christmas Concert at high noon at the Virginia Beach City Hall; participated in a Christmas special at Bow Creek Presbyterian Church; and presented a second annual concert on television, Channel 27.

Several Kellam singers were invited to attend the Regional Chorus. These singers included Rosalyn Knight, Donna Hahn, Randy Callahan, Joe Allen, Marie McWilliams, and Jackie Lucas. Joe Allen was fortunate enough to be selected for the All-State Chorus.

Chorus is rapidly becoming more and more popular at Kellam. Theory class and Music Literature, previously semester choruses, are now full year courses. Also, a Music Club was started this year to enable students to further appreciate music.

Through the study of history, Mr. Arthur Stewart, Department Chairman, and members of the Social Studies Department teach the student what his forefathers have done — both the mistakes and accomplishments. This year, extensive use of audiovisual materials has been made with movies and pamphlets serving as major sources in the student's learning process.

Sociology has been dealt with in greater depth. One of the newest additions to the department is psychology. In the experimental stages, it is being offered to seniors only, and is one of the most exciting new courses in the curriculum. Mrs. Mary Osterhous teaches the course introduced at mid-semester.

Three government classes under Mrs. Beth Taylor, Mrs. Jesse Jones, and Mrs. Virginia James, this year, went to register for the new eighteen year old vote.

Viewpoints on American History is one of the multi-media programs used that brings all of the drama and excitement of history into the classroom. Mr. Bill Ralph's eleventh grade United States History classes has used the series called Viewpoints on American Labor which covers the conflict between labor and management at the turn of the century. Through films, records, and eye-witness accounts, the history of the rise of the unions became much more than facts and dates; instead, students learn what it was really like to work twelve hours a day, seven days a week in one of Carnegie's steel mills; why an unemployed immigrant was happy to accept a job as a strike-breaker; and the reasons people hated living in the model town that Pullman built for them. The program teaches the student how history was lived.

Science Group Gets New Leader At Mid-Semester

In order to keep in step with fascinating scientific discoveries, being made each day, Mr. George Hecker, Science Department Chairman, and his staff offer courses ranging from life science to earth-space science, biology, chemistry and physics.

Last summer a course in marine biology became a reality for Kellam students after several years of planning and hoping by Miss Mary Rainey and Miss Rosalind Pittman, The program, which allowed for projects and utilization of area marine life, was a huge success and will hopefully be offered again this next summer.

Miss Rosalind Pittman, who spearheaded the summer workshop, left her position as Department Chairman at mid-semester to accept a two year International Teaching Fellowship Award from the government of Victoria, Australia. Several years ago Miss Pittman was one of only a few persons in the United States to receive a National Science Foundation scholarship for graduate study. Her scholarship took her to studies at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Egas Joins Mathematics Department As Chairman

A wide range of classes for both the mathematically advantaged and disadvantaged student are offered by the school's Math Department. Programs are varied for the individual needs, abilities and interests, and include classes in general mathematics, algebra, geometry, trigonometry, calculus, consumer math and math analysis. Objectives strive to impart knowledge as well as enthusiasm in an every-changing society.

Mrs. Wilma Egas, the new Department Chairman who comes to Kellam from Plaza Junior High and Norview Senior High, especially wants to make students aware of the opportunities open in the area of mathematics today and to acquaint them with the requirements needed for these positions.

Home Economics Provides For Annual Home Projects

The Home Economics Department is constantly trying to provide for participation in solving personal and family problems in relationships, management, housing, child development, nutrition, foods, clothing, and health.

Aside from regular classroom projects, each student is required to have at least one home project annually which is usually due at the end of the sewing unit.

Although cooking and sewing are a part of a home economics course, child care, home planning via interior decorating, home management, financial planning and etiquette are stressed by Mrs. Cecilia Wilson and other instructors in the department.

Constructive Abilities Stimulated By Industrial Arts Programs

n Woodshop, LaSalle Wallace varnishes a hand-made bowl while hilip Daniels carefully cuts a table leg.

The Industrial Arts Department here at Kellam is designed to teach the student practical skills. The student acquires his knowledge through working directly with the subject.

Drafting students under the direction of Mr. Carruth learn the technicalities of Drafting I, II, III. During the first two years, drafting students learn basic mechanical drawing. In Drafting III the lesson is architectural drawing. Third year students also are able to draw and build a model house. This seems to be one of the greatest pleasures of the drafting student.

In Metal shop, taught by Mr. Webb, students learn skills correlated with metal, such as metal shaping and arch welding. Students are taught how to heat metal, how to bend it and to shape it from a plain rod into a footscraper.

Woods is taught under the supervision of Mr. Lassitor. Here, students learn one of the most interesting arts in the world. It is offered in a three year program. Students in Woods I learn the basics of how to use the shop tools. In the second and third year, students are taught how to make bowls on the wood laythe and how to operate the more advanced machinery.

Gwaltney Meat-Packing Plant Toured In April

Agriculture is offered at Kellam under the instruction of Mr. Garland Nichols and Mr. Herman Valentine. Students in this curriculum learn about such things as the principles of farm management and about such farming techniques as livestock farming, forestry, tractor driving, and the use of electric and gas welding machines. Students also take part in public speaking contests and crop judging.

The Agricultural Department at Kellam, besides conducting its regular classes for high school students, also conducts classes for adults and young farmers and classes on educational television. On the department's field trip this year to the Gwaltney meat-packing plant, students not only received instruction in judging, but also enjoyed a tour of the plant as well. In the spring of the year, the department recognizes individual achievement in the areas of crops, public speaking, livestock, tractor driving, and forestry.

Students follow all safety precautions before welding, one of the machine arts of agriculture.

Horticulture Prospers In Second Year

The Horticulture Curriculum which is headed by Mr. Elgia Easter, has completed its second year at Kellam. Instruction in this curriculum first takes place in the classroom where students learn the principles of horticulture, and then, in the greenhouse where Nature demonstrates these principles to them through their projects. Projects in the curriculum this year included a bedding plant business, the raising of poinsettas at Christmas, the raising of Easter lillies, the raising of Easter corsages for mothers. An added feature of the curriculum this year was landscape design which is taught to second year students.

Through the great facility of the greenhouse, classes have been able to grow and study many unusual plants otherwise unsuitable to this climate such as pineapples which, having been rooted last year, are just now beginning to bear fruit. Other tropical plants which have been raised in the greenhouse include six hibiscus plants and a banana grove consisting of seven trees.

Block Classes Instituted In 1970 Prove Successful For Current Year

Mr. Radke, assisted by a student, goes over a business chart.

The four-channel listening system in one of the typing rooms enables students to type from different dictations at different rates of speed.

One of the most diversified departments at Kellam is the Business Department. Mr. Hubert Eason and his department teach many different skills which range from the steno block and typing to bookkeeping and general business.

The block classes instituted last year have proved to be most successful. There are three of these courses currently being taught: stenography, clerical accounting, and clerk-typist.

In Typing I the student learns the basic mechanics of typing and machine care. Business Law and Notehand, taught on a semester basis, are both interesting and useful. Bookkeeping urges the student to discover the facts for himself; general business offers a wide range of general knowledge on all facets of business.

Distributive Education is another important section of the business department. It is headed by Mr. Edward Radke. In Distributive Education, the student has the opportunity to get a credit and get paid for it. To qualify for Distributive Education, a student must be at least sixteen and be either a junior or senior.

Students taking Physical Education are provided with opportunities to participate in class, school, and city-wide competition. Girls are taught soccer, tennis, and field hockey to stress team efforts while boys are taught soccer, touch football, basketball, and softball for the same purpose. Gymnastics are taught in both departments to impart both individual and group creativity.

The purpose of the Physical Education Department is, by offering these varied activities, to promote physical fitness and to aid mental and physical fitness. Mr. John Cooke and Miss Trina Childress head the department.

Associated with the area of physical education is the role of the school athletic director. He is responsible for schedules of all atheletic events; for sales of season and individual game tickets; advertisement of all athletic events; press relations for school sports; orders for equipment; mediation between coaches and administration; and determination of an athletic budget. Mr. Vic Gregor fills the role of athletic director for the Knights.

Cafeteria Strives For Service To Faculty And Students

Kellam's cafeteria staff under the direction of Mrs. Eleanor Simpson, the school's dietician, daily prepares approximately 771 mid-day meals for students and faculty members. The cafeteria staff also operates a snack line during the mid-day meal where busy students can grab a quick, but nutritious, bite to eat. The snack line has been in operation for two years. However, a before-school snack line, which existed last year, no longer is offered.

In addition to preparing food for the mid-day meal, this group of women also prepares food for special occasions. This year they prepared food for the Kelly Awards banquet, the foreign language department's International Tea, the National Honor Society's tapping ceremonies, and for the school evaluators during the week they were here in December.

Melva Riggs and Nola Smith make those dee-ee-li-cious rolls our cafeteria is famous for.

Clean Halls, Mowed Lawns, Trimmed Bushes, Fixed Lockers — A Day's Work

Cleaning door windows is a never-ending chore for Shirley Phillips.

Mr. Marvin Flora

Keeping Kellam clean is one of the main duties of the custodial staff. Many times a day the cleaning ladies, Mrs. Minnie McCoy and Mrs. Shirley Phillips, are seen by Kellam students and teachers in the halls with cleaning cloths, brooms, and supplies fulfilling their duties. Mr. Martin W. Flora and his staff, which also includes Mr. William Davis and Mr. Junious Archer, also keep the lawns mowed and the bushes pruned and trimmed, refuel the buses, sweep the halls, do minor repairs such as unjamming lockers for students, replacing broken windows, and burned-out lights, and many other things which make Kellam a more pleasant, efficient, and effective place for teachers and students to work in.

At 3:29 in the afternnon as Kellam students are calling it a day, the custodial staff has hardly begun theirs, for now they must clean and prepare the school for the students' arrival the next day. Often this means staying late at night to clean and lock up after concerts or plays.

Mr. Flora takes care of the school by doing everything from mowing lawns to reordering classroom materials.

In their final year as high school students, the Senior Class of Floyd E. Kellam High School has much to look back upon. For the first time the Seniors sold gold pencils with the Kellam insignia stamped in black, employing the school colors, and received senior keys early. They also continued the annual lollipop sales at home football games.

Seniors also defeated the Juniors in the annual Powder-Puff game which was held, for the first time, during the daylight hours and on a Saturday.

"Love Comes In Many Colors", the class play, enjoyed a full house on both nights, February 26 and 27. Stars Frank Babonis, Marcia Caldwell, Becky Williams and Michael Munden were joined by other cast members under the direction of Miss Rhett Pridgen, drama teacher. Ricky Shurtz was student director.

Miss Inez Bryan, class sponsor, guided the class through a successful year. Hot days in June had Miss Bryan and Seniors preparing for graduation. The 1971 graduating class had a small change of color at commencement exercises — tassels became gold instead of black.

Highlights of the year also spotlighted the Senior Prom held in May at the White Sands Country Club, baccalaureate and graduation ceremonies, all which were efficiently handled by class president, Bob VanHorne; vice-president, John Sachon; secretary, Lane Wadsworth; and treasurer, Penny Surdoval.

Kellam High School ever faithful, noble, brave and strong;
Glory, honor, truth and beauty echo in our song.
And with hearts of thankfulness, we lift your praises high;
Kellam lead us ever onward as the years go by.

White is for underclassmen of all origins who are open and free to be formed, mentally and physically. They are innocent and free, ones to be saged and domesticated so that they might be taught the value of their personal debt to themselves.

UNDERCLASSMEN

The 1970-71 school year has proved to be an outstanding one for the Junior Class. A very successful candy sale earned three thousand dollars which annually sponsors the Junior Ring Dance, held this year on April 16 at White Sands Country Club. The Ring Dance is not only a formal ceremony at which Juniors receive their class rings, but also a night of great entertainment.

The Ring Dance and the candy sale are vivid examples of the many things that Mrs. Anne F. Bright, class sponsor, has helped the 1970-71 juniors to accomplish. Mrs. Bright feels the class of '72 has many good leaders and that the class in general is a hard working one. When asked about the future of the Juniors as the rising Senior class, Mrs. Bright said that "with the proper guidance the Juniors have great potential to be an excellent Senior class."

The officers have also played an important part in bridging the generation gap between parents — faculty and students. President Doug Crowe, vice-president Bonnie Jones, secretary Beverly Frost, and treasurer Bethann Thorpe have done well in getting ideas to the people they serve. Assisting the Junior officers are those members of the class senate.

The Juniors have had a very eventful year. To close the football season, the Junior and Senior girls participated in the Powder Puff game leaving the Seniors victorious. All was not lost for Juniors, however, for the Junior-Senior basketball game ended the season with the class of '72 in the number one spot.

Tenth grade officers include president John McCracken; Stacey Enessey, vice-president; Conrad Eiban, reporter historian. Second Row: Donna Pugh, treasurer, and Debbie Callahan, secretary.

Kellam was fortunate this year in having such a Sophomore Class as it did. Miss Pamela Gooch, class sponsor, is pleased with the progress they have made so far: "I am really impressed with the way they take over the work themselves. They all work very hard. John McCracken is an absolutely fantastic president — a very good worker." John is backed by vice-president, Stacey Enessey; secretary, Debbie Callahan; treasurer, Donna Pugh; and reporter-historian, Conrad Eiban.

The first project of the year was a mistletoe sale. Unfortunately, kissing under the green is not permitted in school, so the result of the sale left much to be desired.

This was not to dampen the spirits of the courageous Sophomores! Their peppermint patty sale held during the winter was extremely successful and earned the class well over two hundred dollars. The money gained went to help cosponsor, along with the Freshmen, the annual Crystal Ball held in late spring. "Crystal Blue Persuasion" was the 1970-71 theme.

Freshmen Receive New Sponsor In Mid-Term

Activities were slow for the Freshman class during the 1970-71 school year. Earning money is always a class' objective and this one the Freshman pursued. To sweeten everyone's year, they held a candy sale and earned approximately one hundred, fifty dollars. This money went to help co-sponsor the Crystal Ball with the Sophomore class. Each spring the two classes at Kellam promote the joint venture which is the underclassmen's answer to the Junior and Senior events, Ring Dance and Prom.

The new sponsor, Mrs. Jane Quesenberry, who assumed guidance of the class at mid-semester from Mrs. Betty Uecker, found herself with the job of guiding the Freshman class through the remaining portion of the year. With the assistance of president, Kay McPherson; vice-president, Sherry Taylor; secretary, Alice Wadsworth; and treasurer, Virginia Klag; the year proved to be a very rewarding one for the high school neophytes.

Eighth Grade Sponsor, Mr. Easter, Has Confidence In Rising Class of 1975

Being new to a large school like Floyd E. Kellam was found to be quite a challenge to the eighth grade this year. Activities were slow for the group as they concentrated on adjusting themselves to the new schedules and surroundings, finding new leaders for the year to come and on understanding different courses of instruction.

"The class has good leaders and I believe they will go a long way," said Mr. Elgia Easter, the eighth grade sponsor. He was quite confident that the class would have a bright future. Officers were president Nina Haubold, vice-president Sarah Malbon, secretary Susan Kellam, and treasurer Renee Shirley.

In February the eighth grade class sponsored a Jelly Bean Count Contest. Due to the fact that they were so-o-o-o-o tempting, the jelly beans were gone before a winner could be announced! With such a zest for life it should be interesting to see what the next four years will unfold for this group.

Victories Over Cox and Great Bridge Spark 1971 Season for Knights

Bob Hockman, Herb Scott and John Sachon led the 1971 varsity squad as tri-captains.

Kellam Knights ended a disappointing season with injuries and mistakes as common factors in their losses. Through the spirit and leadership of John Sachon, Herb Scott, and Bob Hockman, tri-captains, they were able to obtain two wins out of the last four games: a homecoming victory over Cox, and an upsetting victory over highly ranked Great Bridge.

The 1970-71 season was not a total loss for underclassmen Mike Deiulio, Dave Marquette, Tom Currin, Chuck Edwards, Wade Morse, and Joe Shray, showed potential and gained valuable experience which should benefit next year's team.

Special recognition was owed this years' outstanding defensive players — Howard Holzmacher, Herb Scott, John Sachon, and Charlie Foreman, and to Freddie Evans who aided the. team with his accurate punting.

Junior Varsity Boasts Best Season in Years

Junior varsity football, under the direction of Coach Adrian Brown, completed their most successful season in three years. The players gained valuable game experience despite a record of two wins and four losses. There was no one star on the team; everyone contributed to help the team.

Howard Everton and Bryan Jones served as the co-captains. The offensive backfield consisted of Everton at quarterback, Jones at half-back, Dave Beers at fullback, and Robert Katt at halfback. John Lewis, Tim Terry, Casey Millard, James Whitaker, and Leon McPherson anchored down the offensive line. Their blocking helped to open up the holes for the running backs.

The defensive team enabled the Knights to win both of their games. When the offense could not move, the defense got the ball back quickly. The defensive line consisted of Wayne Potts, Terry Lathrum, Joe McGuirk, Allen Kyker, and Scott Milhouse. Allen Dowell, Dave Beers, and Gene Bun stopped numerous touchdowns by the opponents from their linebacker positions. The deep secondary consisted of Dennis Gregory, and Bryan Jones who intercepted five passes between them, and who were also on the punt-return team.

The -70-'71 junior varsity season must be labeled a success because many boys played on a team for their first time. These boys gained the necessary fundamentals and skills which should enable them to play varsity football next year.

Lose By Six Points

Cross Country Ends 21 — Game Winning Streak

Cross Country running differs from the other forms of running competition in that it is not held on a regular track; but, rather as its name implies, on a course laid out in fields and forrests, over hills, and, generally, over uneven terrain. It is a sport which demands great stamina from its participants who must not only run over irregular terrain, but at distances of up to 2.4 miles.

Kellam's cross country team ended their 1971 season with a 4-1 record and a disappointing defeat to First Colonial High School which ended a twenty-one game winning streak. At the district meet held at Little Creek Amphibious Base, the team's top runner, Dennis Castello, took second place; however, the rest of the team made a poor showing. "The team as a whole," commented Coach Ammons, "ended up with a disappointing fourth place."

Castello also took sixth place in the regional meet. Although Coach Ammons made no comment on the outlook for next season, the team faces obvious difficulties with the loss of five veteran runners due to graduation in June including co-captains Dennis Castello and Laymon Styron.

Hockey Places Two On All-Stars Team

The 1971 season for Girl's Field Hockey was a building one more than anything else. Kellam's team did, however, achieve a tie for fourth place in the district.

The Kempsville game was their best game because of the adverse conditions under which they played. First Colonial saw the team field its worst game as a result of poor team organization and numerous misses of chances to score.

Two of the most valuable players were Terrie Sawyer for the defense and Wendy Howell for the offense. Debbie Payne contributed the most points for the entire season with games being played on Wednesday afternoons.

Susan Bryant, Wendy Howell, and Terrie Sawyer led the 1971 team as tri-captains under the sponsorship of Miss Dot DuRant. Several members of the team were picked as All Stars: Terrie Sawyer, center halfback for the first team; Debbie Payne, center forward, selected for the second team; and Wendy Howell, right wing, awarded an honorable mention. The annual hockey award went to Wendy Howell, Terrie Sawyer, and Susan Bryant.

Prospects for the up-coming 1972 season are brightened by the remaining presence of players Terrie Sawyer, Karen Bryant, Debbie Payne, and Kris Laue.

This year's varsity basketball team finished the season with three wins against fifteen losses. The Knights defeated Oscar Smith twice, 73-69 and 83-73, and Cox, 64-63. Kellam lost to Cox later on in the season in an exciting double-overtime, 83-89. The most disappointing game of the season occurred against arch-rival Princess Anne when the Cavaliers walloped the Knights by the score of 120-74.

Blair Sawyer, captain of the team, kept the season from being a complete failure by averaging 16.3 points per game. His spirit and desire enabled him to win the "Hustle Award" for seven games. Bob Peterson was the leading rebounder with 10.8 rebounds per game. Other seniors who contributed to the team were Clyde Jones, Julian Sawyer, and Jim Carraway. Sawyer scored 23 points in the season's finale against Oscar Smith. Jones and Carraway came off the bench numerous times to spark the team.

Juniors also helped to round out the team. Steve Layden led the team in assists with 37 for the season. Doug Crowe established a new school record by making 26 of 32 foul shots for 81%. Richard Wood was an able ball-handler as well as a consistent shot from the outside. Randy Morgan was tough under the boards, pulling down rebounds to start the fast break. Dave Marquette proved to be an able shooter as well as sure rebounder.

These underclassmen, as well as many fine junior varsity prospects, will be returning next year to rebuild the team. Coach Ken Stallings believes that basketball at Kellam will soon rise to power.

Baby Knights Conquer Princess Anne, Oscar Smith

The junior varsity basketball team, under the direction of Coach Johnny Morris, had a disappointing season with a record of two wins and sixteen losses. Led by co-captains Kenny Bazemore and Tony Davis, the baby Knights conquered Princess Anne and Oscar Smith, but they usually lost in the closing minutes of their other games as they made too many mistakes.

Bill Hobbs, Kenny Bazemore, and Tony Dairs were the leading scorers, and Richard Sandstrom, Sam Baker, and Bryan Jones were consistent rebounders. Jim Perkins, a freshman, developed a hot hand in many games to keep the scores close. Andy Hershey was the playmaker whose chief job was to set up the team and call a play. Kenny Sullivan, Chris Midcalf, Allen Dowell, and Robert Katt did not see much action, but they were always ready to go in when the coach called.

Many of these boys will move up to the varsity team next year; only Jim Perkins will remain. These boys have learned the fundamentals of good, sound basketball, and they sould be able to put these fundamentals to good use on the varsity hardwood in future years.

Take Honors in District Wrestling Competition

ach Gregor instructs co-captains Rick Land and LaSalle Wallace in the ancake whip" maneuver.

Members of the 1971 Kellam varsity wrestling team, despite their disappointing 6-6 record for the season as a whole, did achieve several individual honors. Top men on the team this year proved to be co-captains Rick Land and LaSalle Wallace and junior Mike Kuhn. Land took second place, and Wallace and Kuhn took third places for their respective weight divisions in district competition. Kuhn, also, took fourth place for his weight division in regional competition.

As a result of a strong, upcoming junior varsity team, which finished the 1971 season with an 8-4 record, and the loss of only four varsity wrestling members due to graduation in June, Coach Gregor is looking forward to a winning season in 1972 with the varsity team possibly placing first or second in the district.

In past seasons, Kellam's junior varsity wrestling team has been one of the strongest teams in atheletic competition. Kellam's 1971 junior varsity wrestling team, which compiled a favorable 8-4 record for the season, was no exception. Commenting on the performance of certain team members, Coach Gregor said that the best records on the team were sported by co-captains Tim Terry and Kirk Upton and predicted that both Terry and Upton, along with team members James Horne and Isom Young, would move up to varsity competition next year.

Special recognition was also given to team members Conrad Eiban, who wrestled well against several varsity opponents this year, and to Gene Bunn. It has been predicted that both Eiban and Bunn should be strong competitors next year.

Boy's Gymnastics Team Posts A 2-3 Record For The '71 Season

Mr. Perceful discusses the final scoring with captain Tom Leahy.

Kellam's 1971 boy's gymnastics team, coached by Mr. Richard Perceful posted a 2-3 record for the season, losing to Kempsville, and in a tri-meet, to South Hampton. Superior team members this year were David Hawkins, Jim Horne, co-captain Craig Davis, and captain Tom Leahy. Hawkins and Horne excelled on the side horse, and Davis in floor exercises, in horizontal bar, and in longhorse vaulting. Davis placed fifth on the trampoline and Leahy twelfth on the parallel bars at the state meet last year.

In order to compete in the state meet, gymnasts from this area must place at least fifth in their event at the Eastern District Elimination Meet. These high qualifications necessary in order to compete in the state meet show the high degree of excellence that gymnasts Tom Leahy and Craig Davis have worked for and attained.

Wendy Howell Places On Balance Beam In District Regional Girl's Gymnastics Meet

The past season for Girl's Gymnastics was a building year when participants added little experience and saw all meets lost except one. The Bayside meet, the one Kellam's team did win, was considered the best meet while the Kempsville one was the worst.

Events open in beginner and general competition included free exercise, balance beam, vaulting, uneven parallel bars, and tumbling. Those students who were involved in these activities included Wendy Howell, Alice Paxton, Bunny Wadsworth, Cheryl Kanz, Margaret Stillo, Roxanne Nolette, Karla Pendleton, Eileen Leonard, and Elizabeth Creamer.

Wendy Howell, the only senior member, placed sixth on the balance beam in the Eastern District Regional Girl's Gymnastics Meet; Roxanne Nolette received first place for beginners on the uneven parallel bars. Howell later placed tenth on the balance beam at the State Meet.

Miss Dot DuRant coached the 1971 team assisted by Terrie Sawyer as manager.

Varsity Baseball Ranks Near Top Of Eastern District Teams

The varsity baseball team completed one of its most successful seasons in school history. Under the direction of Coach Tom McCauley, the team finished near the top of the Eastern District.

Tri-captains, Rick Futrell, Steve Currin, and Fred Evans contributed fine hitting and pitching to the team. Tommy Currin handled the duties of catcher, and his hitting saved some important games for the Knights. Dave Marquette, Mike Delulio, Steve Layden, and Clyde Jones played a tight infield with few balls getting by them. Mike Pelkey and Eddie Sellers were good outfielders who also could play other positions as well. Sophomore Bill Lanning proved to be a good relief pitcher who should be a leader in future years.

Surprise of the year was Gary Ansell, a transfer student and in his first year of playing Kellam baseball, paved the way for many victories with his pitching and hitting.

Prospects for next year look good with the return of many of the same players. Hopefully the Knights will win the Eastern District title in baseball next year.

Cooke Ends Sixth Junior Varsity Season, 64-17

Kellam's junior varsity baseball team got off to a good spring start, but they slacked off in the middle of the season. Still, this year's team enjoyed a winning season under the leadership of Coach John Cooke.

Team co-captains were Ken Sullivan and Jay Payne. Big hitters for the team were Chuck Sutton, John Sinnen, and Casey Millard. The pitching staff consisted of Ken Sullivan Chris Metcalf and Jim Perkins. Perkins was a good relief pitcher whose hitting and pitching helped to win the Granby game, 9-7.

Coach Cooke shifted the line-up every game, and the infielders consisted of Bob Phillips, Jay Payne, Richard Sandstrom, Ken Sullivan, Ken Roebuck, David Wagner, Bryan Jones, Casey Millard, John Lewis, Chuck Sutton, and Gene Bunn.

Next year, the junior varsity team should fare better with three returnees. There was only one to return this year, therefore the team lacked experience of having worked and played as a team.

Indoor Track Excels At Three Invitational Meets

Kellam's Indoor Track team had a unique team this year with three record-holding team members. No local meets were held due to the lack of facilities, but the invitational meets that were attended proved to be fruitful. In the Naval Academy Invitational Meet, held at Annapolis, Maryland, Kellam's team placed seventh out of 120 schools. Placing in that meet were Herb Scott, third in shot put; Dennis Castello, seventh in the 1000 yard run; and Roosevelt Jones, third in the high hurdles. Coach Ammons commented on Jones' feat: "In this race he was beaten by the high school world record holder, Larry Shipp, at a world record pace."

At the D.C. Public Invitational Track Meet, the team came in thirteenth with Jones placing third in the high hurdles and the Sprint Medley team placing fourth.

At the State Meet held at VMI in Lexington, the team placed thirteenth with Scott taking fourth in the shot put, Castello placing fourth in the 880 yard run, and Jones placing fifth in the low hurdles.

Summing up the Indoor Season, Coach Ammons commented, "We broke around twelve school records."

The Outdoor Track Team, however, did not fare as well, winning only one of their local meets and placing fairly low in district meets.

Gold is for Organizations: gold is for reminicsing. Memories of clubs and activities bring back the golden moments of float-building, dance planning, candy selling, parliamentary procedure, show-making, club dinners, initiations, and membership drives. Memories also bring back the golden moments of anticipation, wondering whether a friend will or will not be accepted into a club; excitement, realizing that something is actually happening; and grief, seeing all that hard work pass on to hands other than one's own, and realizing that one can never touch it again.

ORGANIZATIONS

SCA Identifies and Photographs for School ID Cards

The primary function of the Student Cooperative Association of Kellam High School is to develop a fundamental concept of American democracy by providing opportunities and experiences in the techniques of democratic principle and process, and by being responsible for the coordination, intergration and general welfare of school activities.

President of the Student Cooperative Association was Barry Bradberry; vice-president, Terri Sawyer; treasurer, Cathy Perkins; secretary, Susan Malbon; and reporter-historian, Nancy Williamson.

Activities included the painting of the stadium and the student activity room; the making of student identification cards which for the first time photographed the student as well as stating the person was a Kellam student; running Homecoming ceremonies with the theme, "Kellam Salutes America"; having student exchanges between other Virginia Beach high schools; providing a Christmas mail box for students to put Christmas cards in; celebrating Earth Day; picking up trash around Kellam; adding extra parking spaces in front of school; and being hall monitors during Evaluation Week.

Leading the SCA for 1971 were Nancy Williamson, reporter-historian; Terrie Sawyer, vice-president; Cathy Perkins, treasurer; and Barry Bradberry, president. Missing is Susan Malbon, secretary.

Inter-Club Council Undergoes Renovation: Discards Some Former Groups And Acquires New Sponsor

"To intergrate student activities and to provide financial aid to clubs if necessary" is the purpose of the Inter-Club Council, a sub-division of the Student Cooperative Association. The Inter-Club Council includes class and club activities.

This year the Chairman was Terri Sawyer. Since Mrs. Sylvia Hallock did not return to Kellam this year, a new sponsor of the I.C.C. was needed. After several weeks of searching, Miss Elizabeth Dobyns was asked to sponsor the I.C.C. for the 1970-1971 school year. Met by the new challenge, Miss Dobyns helped to set a new standard by eliminating from I.C.C. representatives of groups not directly involved with class or club affairs. She also worked with Terri Sawyer and I.C.C. members as they reworked the previous constitution.

Activities of the year centered around the evaluation of all clubs, a dance at the beginning of the year, and a collection for the United Funds.

Thirty-Three Students Inducted As New Members During Annual Candlelight Ceremony At Kellam

The object of the Kellam High Chapter of the National Honor Society is to create an enthusiasm for scholarship, to stimulate a desire to render service, to promote worthy leadership and to encourage the development of character among the students of Floyd E. Kellam High School. Thirty-three students were inducted this year as members during the traditional candlelight ceremony held for invited students and their parents.

Numerous service and money-raising projects were held throughout the year to both further promote service and character among the student body and to help raise money for the NHS scholarship fund. Many of these were: the tapping ceremony, printing the honor roll, selecting the citizen of the month, having teacher appreciation days, filling of the nab machines, being guides during Evaluation Week, sponsoring vital and interesting programs, and having candy sales.

Junior Civitan Excels In School And Community Projects Like The Holland Road Clean-Up

To stand for good citizenship in the home, school, and community; to cooperate with leaders; to serve the community; to develop experience in living and working together; to practice the Golden Rule; and to prepare for leadership are the goals that the Junior Civitan tried to reach this year.

The Junior Civitan strived to meet their goals through several community projects. Members participated in a Holland Road Clean-Up that benefited the school and residents. Two stadium clean-ups were also held. Civitan continued its drive for cleanliness by cleaning the press box windows for Homecoming, washing basketball backboards, and painting two of the school's portables.

During the past school year, the Junior Civitan made up two baskets for the needy — one at Christmas and one at Thanksgiving. They donated $25 to the Joy Fund and paid $8 for a student's debt.

Club officers and sponsor, Mr. Richard Perceful, went to the State Council meeting in November, and members participated as parade directors at Homecoming. The Junior Civitan made several purchases this year: an American Flag for the gym for basketball games, a school blackboard, and a drum major's uniform. They also planted six new dogwood trees on the front lawn of Kellam.

Along the lines of making money, the club sold candy apples at all home football games, sold fruitcakes in December, and held doughnut sales. Members also were active in two car washes.

It was not all work however, as they had a party at the Aquarius, presented a Teacher-of-the-Year award, and a $500 scholarship to a graduating senior.

Officers of this industrious group were: president, Rick Cassani; vice-president, Doug Crowe; secretary, Karen Orlawski; and treasurer, John Carlton.

Keyettes Take American Indian As International Project In 1970-71

Under the guidance of Mrs. Elizabeth Sink and president Regina Hawk, the Kellam Chapter of the Keyettes has proved its motto of "We serve."

Besides promoting Christianity, the Keyettes have braved the swarming faces of people in front of the concession stand at football, baseball, wrestling, and regional gymnastics games, sold doughnuts for the local Boy's Club, sold candy, and decorated the teacher's lounge at Christmas time while also providing refreshments for the teachers.

The American Indian was this year's International Keyette's project.

The International Key Club's purpose is "To build' good character and citizenship to serve the community and our school." Proving this, the Key Club has, under the leadership of Larry Laramay and sponsor Mr. Charles Hecker, put out Key Club Directories, cleaned up the stadium, had a football game against Junior Civitan, held a faculty serf sale, and distributed a Christmas basket to under-privileged families in this area.

Teachers, Staff Honored At Christmas With Coffee Social

Future Homemakers of America is a National Organization of Students who are studying homemaking in junior and senior high schools. The goal of the Future Homemakers of America members is to help individuals improve personal, family, and community living.

During the past school year, in order to attain their goal, the Future Homemakers of America contributed a goodwill basket to a needy family for Thanksgiving so that one more family would have more to be thankful for. At Christmas time, the Future Homemakers of America showed their Christmas spirit by giving a Coffee Social for faculty and staff personnel at Kellam.

Officers for the 1970-1971 year were: president, Connie Perry; vice-president, Wanda Leondhardt; secretary, Debra Joyner; and treasurer, Kay McPherson. Sponsor was Mrs. W.G. McElmmurray.

Annual Fall Rally For Area Sponsored By Kellam High Unit Of Distributive Education

The Distributive Education Club is an extension of the Distributive Education classroom, and is a professional organization for the working student. Through the Distributive Education program, members of the Distributive Education Club are provided with social, recreational, classroom and on-the-job experience. Because the club is part of the Distributive Education program, students, who otherwise have no time for other organizations, are proved with a convenient, sensible way to express their school spirit.

The Distributive Education Club started the year off with a back-to-school picnic and officer elections both rolled into one. Homecoming spelled success for Distributive Education Club members when their float won second place. The Distributive Education Club remembered the less fortunate by giving food and clothing to a needy family at Christmas and again in April. The annual fall rally for Distributive Education students in Virginia Beach and Nasemond County was also sponsored by the Kellam unit.

Distributive Education Club members showed their artistic talent by painting their Distributive classrooms while concluding the first semester with a Christmas card sale.

Second semester activities included guest speakers at club meetings, participation in local, state, and national club contests, and an employee-employer banquet. Lastly, the Distributive Education Club held an end of the year picnic for past and incoming Distributive Education students.

Officers this year were: president, Lee Knight; vice-president, Richard Davis; treasurer, Kathy Melton; and secretary, Jackie Jordan.

Since they couldn't get on a float, DE officers Richard Davis, Jackie Jordan and Lee Knight were more than happy to sit on a car.

Future Nurses Visit DePaul And Norfolk General Hospitals

The Future Nurses of America, this year, participated in open houses at DePaul and Norfolk General hospitals. They also had Barbara Beekma, a medical technologist from Norfolk General Hospital, come to speak to them, as well as a Future-Nurse-of-the-Year speaker.

During the year, the Future Nurses of America worked, through many sales projects, towards giving a $100 scholarship to a graduating senior. They sold peanuts, decals and mugs at Homecoming, and they held doughnut sales and car washes.

The purpose of the Future Nurses of America was also supported by publicity they provided for Cancer Week. To create an understanding of nursing and its opportunities, and to increase the awareness of how one develops mentally, physically, and spiritually so that optional health may be expanded throughout the home, school, and communities are the properties that make up the purpose of the Future Nurses of America.

Officers this year were: president, Linda Utley; vice-president, Cheryl Connely; secretary-treasurer, Saundra Balicky; and reporter-historian, Valerie Jones.

Elementary School Visits And Collegiate Observations Promote Interest For Future Teachers Of America

Angel Zeppieri, Mrs. Ann Williams, Wanda Witt, Eva Baker, and Kathy Benson take time out for a friendly FTA photo.

Angel Zeppieri guided the Future Teachers of America through an eventful and rewarding year as president of the Future Teachers Club. With the help of Mrs. Anne Williams, their sponsor, Future Teachers of America fulfilled their function of exploring the possibilities of teaching as a career by participating in numerous service projects.

During the year, members of the Future Teachers of America supported their club through various activities, but primarily through the successful stationery sale. In October, for Halloween, the Future Teacher's Club put smiles on the faces of many teachers with their favors made especially for Kellam teachers.

Teachers at Kellam were not the only ones "favored" by the Future Teacher's Club. The members also put their resources toward providing a Christmas basket for a needy family.

Members of Future Teachers of America were often seen cheerfully boarding buses that took them to elementary schools for visits and to colleges to observe and hear noted speakers.

The Future Teachers topped off the year by awarding the Outstanding Senior Award at the Senior Awards Assembly.

Year's Productions Include "Our Town" and "Miracle Worker"

Kellam Drama Club members provided Kellam students, parents, faculty, and others with a variety of dramatic entertainment this 1970-71 school year. Their agenda of dramatic entertainment included Thorton Wilder's "Our Town", the senior play, "Love Comes in Many Colors", and "The Miracle Worker", the spring play.

Drama Club members participated in several festivals this year. "If Men Played Cards as Women Do" was the Kellam entry at the District One-Act Play Festival. They also attended the Fine Arts Festival at First Colonial, and the Shakespearean Festival at Kempsville. The Kelly Awards Banquet, a joint Thespian-Drama Club activity, was the high point of an entertaining year for the Drama Club members.

President of this year's Drama Club was Ted Evans. Vice-president was Rick Shurtz; secretary, Debbie Green; Treasurer, Tom Currie; sponsor, Miss Rhett Pridgen.

Emily Webb's marriage to George Gibbs was the highlight of "Our Town" for those who saw the Wilder play.

Third Annual Kelly Awards Honor Thespians

Alright, now. See if you can get it right this time!

"Act your part; there all honor lies," Thus, the goal as well as the motto for the International Thespian's Society. Throughout the year the International Thespians have tried to achieve dramatic activity at Kellam.

Kellam's International Thespians participated in many activities this year. They produced "Our Town", and the senior class play, "Love Comes in Many Colors". They also produced the spring play, "The Miracle Worker", took part in the Shakespearean Festival, District and State Festivals, and the Forensics meet.

An installation of new members was held at the end of the year when the annual Kelly Awards and the Thespians Awards were presented.

Officers of this year's International Thespians Society were: president, Donald Workman; vice-president, Michelle Hickey; secretary, Bethann Thorpe; and treasurer, Lorine Bryant. Sponsor of the International Thespian Society was Miss Rhett Pridgen.

Art Club Adds Vibrant Color To School Events; Promotes Patriotism Through Flag Patch Project

During the Senior Awards Assembly this year, the Kellam Art Club gave two seniors the Silver Palet Award. At the end of the year, they also gave a scholarship to a deserving graduate.

The Kellam Art Club, whose purpose is to serve Kellam, decorated the cafeteria this year for Christmas with scenes from Dr. Suess's children's classic, How the Grinch Stole Christmas. They also decorated the cafeteria during National Lunch Week. At Homecoming the Art Club float won second place to the satisfaction of all members that participated.

The Art Club sold flag patches to students, faculty, and residents of the community. They also sold silk-screening for t-shirts: anyone who brought in a t-shirt could get it silk-screened.

Officers this year were: president, Kathy Little; vice-president, Gray Womble; secretary, Julie Kinner; and treasurer, Valerie Jones. Sponsors were Mr. Dorosz and Mrs. Mary Levi.

Members of this Kellam club met every Tuesday after school to hold practice debates and to coordinate and develop other areas of Forensics.

The purpose of the Debate and Forensics Club is to further instruct the student members in various forms of public speaking and interpretation and to enhance their interest in these areas.

Officers of this year's Debate and Forensics Club were: president, Mike Tate; vice-president, and secretary, Nelson Amis. Guiding and sponsoring this young group of people was Miss Mary Ariail.

Library Club Actively Participates In POW-MIA Effort — Circulate Petitions To Hanoi

Mrs. Martha Owens, head librarian, prepares a library showcase exhibit.

To assist the library staff in serving the teachers and students of Kellam High School in order to further the library program, and to help make Kellam's library the best high school library possible is the purpose of Kellam's Library Club.

Most members of the club are student library assistants or audio-visual projectionists who volunteer their study hall time to work in the library; however, anyone can join.

The Library Club participated enthusiastically in the POW-MIA campaign, and showed their concern in several ways: they built a homecoming float, honoring the POW's and MIA's, which club members were invited to enter in the Veteran's Day Parade; made posters and set up displays; made up bibliographies on writing letters to influential public officials; and made buttons.

Also, the club helped in planning and carrying out the activities scheduled for National Library Week.

The club's Tootsie Roll sale was a big success, and the proceeds from the sale were used for an annual scholarship in honor of a former librarian at Kellam, Mrs. Nancy Strickler. A two hundred dollar scholarship was awarded to a deserving senior planning to pursue a library science course after graduation in June.

Mrs. Martha Owens, librarian, and Mrs. Jane Kelly George, assistant librarian, were co-sponsors for the 1970-1971 year.

Club Studies Spanish Art, Literature And Customs

Club Hispano America, the Spanish Club of Kellam High, has striven to create brotherhood between Latin American countries and the United States. The purpose of this club is to put the Spanish language to use, and to familiarize its members with Spanish art, literature, and customs. The motto, "Poco appoco, se va le jos" or "little by little, we go far", clearly and concisely states this purpose. This year the Spanish club sponsored the Spanish Art Contest and Show, and co-sponsored the International Tea.

This year's members were led by Wanda Witt, president; Angel Zeppieri, vice-president; Ruby Brown, secretary; Robert Wesner, treasurer; and Margie Laird, reporter-historian. Sponsor for the club was Mrs. Diane Martin.

German Club Holds "Fasching Party" During Month Of February

The purpose and function of the German Club is to instill in its members an interest in Germany and in the German language.

In order to fulfill its purpose, the German Club started early in the year with a German picnic in October. The German Club also participated in Kellam's Homecoming. With other foreign language groups, the German Club members helped to make the International Tea an occasion of merriment and togetherness for all. A "Fasching" Party was held in February with the year's activities ending with another picnic in May.

Along with sponsor Miss Katheryn VanLear, these club officers provided the fulfillment of the purpose for all German Club members: president-treasurer, Joyce Bell; vice-president, Bobby Brown; secretary, Carol Neaton.

GAA Sponsors Student-Faculty Basketball, Volleyball Games

To provide an opportunity for girls to get together and to enjoy games and sport activities, while hoping to develop a strong sense of fellowship and understanding with each other, is the attempt of the members of the Girl's Athletic Association. They serve this purpose by participating in basketball, field hockey, volleyball and sometimes gymnastics. Activities planned by president, Arlene Jones; vice-president, Sharon Payton; secretary, Cissy Cason; treasurer, Jeanette Murphy; sergeant-at-arms, Sue Minton included the sponsoring of Student-faculty basketball and volley ball games.

Fellowship of Christian Athletes Enters Second Year: Activities Promote Principles of Christianity

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes was started two years ago at Floyd E. Kellam when Coach Bill Ralph joined the school's staff. Since that time, any young man interested in illustrating the teachings of Christ through participation in athletics may join.

President of the 1971 chapter of Christian Athletes was Mike Tate who was assisted by Coach Ralph. Seniors who participated in the group and graduated included Charles Bailey, Eddie Sellers, Herb Scott, Scott Gawley, Otis Guill, Steve Currin and Clyde Jones.

Although they did participate in one local television talk show this year when Mike Tate appeared, no other activities beyond the involvement in sports was emphasized in 1970-71.

Monogram Membership Enlarged During Squire Week At Kellam

The Monogram Club of Kellam High recognizes athletes at Kellam who have earned a varsity letter in a sport. Before becoming a full-pledged member, a candidate must first survive a very rigorous and embarrasing week of torture known to everyone as "Squire Week".

In order to raise money, the Monogram Club sponsored Junior-Senior and Sophomore-Freshman basketball games. Another money-raising activity was the selling of stationery, some with the Kellam High School crest and some with a more contemporary look by being multicolored.

A beach party was planned for the end of the year.

Officers for the '70-'71 season were: Rick Futrell, president; Dave Marquette, vice-president; Bob Hockman, treasurer; Dennis Castello, secretary; Howard Holzmacher, sergeant-at-arms; and Wade Morse, chaplain. Coach John Cooke assisted as club sponsor.

Dennis Castello proves himself on the track and on the roster of club officers.

Sell Handmade Poppies

Veteran's Foundation Aided By Pep Club Project

David Almgren shows off the poppy he purchased from the Pep Club during their sales for the Veteran's Foundation.

The 1971 Pep Club aided the Veteran's Foundation by selling hand-made poppies at Kellam. With each contribution to the Veteran's Fund, a student received a poppy. At the end of the drive, the Pep Club proudly turned over a large sum to the Veteran's Foundation.

At Homecoming the Pep Club sold spirit buttons and victoriously paraded its first-place float, an honor which they have received two years in a row.

The Pep Club, sponsored by Mrs. Claudia Kight, helped promote school spirit at football games and painted large signs for the football players. Like last year, Kellam's Pep Club was open to all students interested in promoting school spirit and providing service to the school.

Chorus Gives Christmas Show

Students enrolled in chorus had an exciting year that included several concerts, in which a majority of the students took an active part.

There were two traditional concerts this year, one at Christmas time and one in the spring. The choral department's agenda included several concerts at local churches, an appearance at City Hall, and another in Virginia Beach in December.

Highlights of the early part of their choral year included a program at Military Circle Shopping Center by the concert chorus and a television appearance on Channel 15 at Christmas.

In addition to their regular choral selections the chorus department produced a program of popular music in the spring.

Mr. Tatem, choral director, strived to teach students to sing and to aquaint them with a varied choice of musical literature throughout the year. He presented certificates and trophies at a choral awards program at the end of the fifth six-weeks period.

Mr. Tatem worked hard for a successful choral department.

The second part of their goal, providing a scholarship, was unfortunately not achieved; however, the Future Musicians of America progressed greatly during the year.

Members of the Future Musicians of America and their sponser, Mr. Tatem, worked hard to provide Kellam with interesting musical programs. The main product of their work was the appearance of the Old Dominion Concert Chorus and Madrigals at Kellam.

Randy Callahan, president, created and organized the Future Musicians of America.

Kellam Band Participates In Parades

Under the direction of Mr. Tom Swanson, Steve Skillman and Mona Liza Nunez, the Kellam High School Marching Band has participated in numerous parades and activities around the Tidewater area. The Oyster Bowl Parade in Norfolk, the Azalea Parade in Norfolk, the Williamsburg Band Muster in Williamsburg, the Columbus Day Parade in Hampton and the Knotts Island Parade, were just a few of the parades they marched in.

The Kellam Marching Band held two concerts this year, one in December and one in May.

In January, seven members of the band were picked for District II-A Regional Band. The members picked were: Steve Skillman, John Cason, Rhonda Hoffman, Yvonne Gephart, Lou Anne Swenson and Glenna Whiteferd.

New this year was the Band-Parent Association. The parents of band members got together to formulate ideas and to raise money for new band uniforms and instruments.

Varsity Cheerleaders Promote Spirit

Varsity Cheerleaders sponsored by Miss Mary Kay Lucas, were headed this year by captain Shell Purvis and co-captain Jean Shearin. This group of dedicated girls helped to promote spirit and enthusiasm at all varsity football and basketball games. The varsity cheerleaders devoted a deal of their time encouraging the team by wrapping goal posts at home games, selling spirit ribbons, and holding stimulating pep rallies before all varsity football games. These things exemplify just a few ways the varsity cheerleaders supported the team with school spirit.

Shell and her squad also provided dinners in the cafeteria before each game for the football and basketball game, and they gave to the team a cake at every pep rally.

Besides cheering at varsity football and basketball games, the cheerleaders also supported the wrestling and baseball teams.

JV Cheerleaders Sell Mums for Homecoming

This year, Junior Varsity Cheerleaders faithfully attended JV athletic events in their successful attempt to promote school spirit through publicizing and attending JV events.

During the course of the year, the JV cheerleaders had two important money-making projects. At Varsity football home games, JV cheerleaders could always be seen selling programs in the stands. They also sold mums for Homecoming.

Mickey Moore served as JV captain this year and Debbie Hanks served as co-captain. Mrs. Beth Taylor was sponsor.

Junior Varsity cheerleaders received certificates of merit for completing one year of cheering successfully and also an athletic letter.

Drill Team Excels, Balicky And Shirley Attend Workshop

From the first days of the early sixties, there has been a Drill Team at Floyd E. Kellam. In 1971 sixty-four members, guided by Saundra Balicky, captain, Dolores Graves, co-captain, and Mrs. Sue Hilty, sponsor, performed at school and community functions.

In the spring of 1970, team members were selected. That way, all persons could practice during the summer and early opening of school to be ready for those first football games and occasional parades. For a girl to qualify, she had to have a C average, present a nice appearance, exhibit willingness to practice and work at routines, illustrate personality projection, and comply with execution of form.

Besides performing in the pre-game and half-time routines, the 1971 Drill Team marched in the Oyster Bowl parade; in the Azalea Festival festivities held in May, honoring the NATO alliance; and in parades honoring Armed Forces Day, Memorial Day and Veteran's Day.

Through participation in these events, the girls hoped to promote school spirit and to evidence that spirit both in their actions and performances.

Roundtable Takes First In Virginia High School League Competition

The purpose of the Kellam Roundtable is to seek and print the important news of Kellam High School for the Kellam High student body and faculty. Sponsored by Mrs. Florence Blankenship and published by Journalism II students, the newspaper is published five times a year.

Rotating editorships provided each Journalism II student with the experience to edit the Kellam Roundtable. Because of the lack of funds, subscriptions were sold to students and faculty. In previous years all students received free subscriptions since yearly fees, now abolished, covered this cost. Aiding the Roundtable staff were students from Mrs. Blankenship's first year journalism classes, which were new this year at Kellam.

For the first year the Roundtable received an award for the newspaper. The Virginia Beach High School League awarded the Roundtable first place in high school catefories of newspapers.

Work, Work and More Work!

Challenger Blends Dreams and Realities in '71 Coverage — Moniot Heads Staff

When famous chefs cook, they treat every ingredient with care because they know it might make or break the finished product. The '71 Challenger is the result of many hours of the mixing of ideas, the blending of copy and pictures, the stewing of the thousand and one frustrations, the sizzling of nerves, and the simmering of a dedicated staff working diligently towards their hopeful goal, their "masterpiece".

The editor-in-chief, Melanie Moniot, along with her staff, worked long hours, after school and on weekends to meet the deadlines of the 1971 yearbook. Under the guidance of Miss Anne Frances Allen, sponsor, the efforts of the staff, the Challenger was created.

Joella Caldwell, senior editor, and Georgette Crisp became an excellent team in producing the senior section; Donna Foos, underclassmen editor, completed the underclassmen section with the combined efforts of Pam Allbert, Georgette Crisp, Robert Gallup, Gail Heywood, Bryan Jones, and Arlene Minsterman. Pam Sprague, as organization editor, along with Pat Landgraf, rounded up information and pictures of people to complete the organization section while Steve Currin, Ricky Futrell, Robert Gallup, Bryan Jones, and Arlene Minsterman tackled the sports. Melanie Moniot, Georgette Crisp, Fay Ryan, and Frank Babonis attempted to convey the spirit of the classroom for the curriculum section. Fay Ryan, Stella Roberson, and Stephanie Wright produced many pages of typewritten material, seemingly in minutes, to the dismay of the digit-swollen staff who did other portions themselves.

Mr. Richard Absalom, business sponsor, and Mr. William Perry, sales sponsor, were assisted by Cheryl Connelly, Teresa Phillips, John Hargrove, and Shell Purvis. Staff members also helped on promoting sales of the book.

Much of the photography was done by McIntosh Studios. Student photographers who contributed pictures were Mike Munden, Fred Ard, Mike Raper, and Pam Sprague. Art work for the book was done by Debbie Danklefs.

Deadlines bring more work so that scenes of leisure are rare ones for Mr. Absalom and Melanie Moniot.

"We used this shot last year, John. Do you think we should again?"

Teresa Phillips and Miss Allen proof copy for the final check.

Identifying faces is always a hectic part of the organization section worked on by Pam Sprague and Pat Landgraf.

Fay Ryan and Cheryl Connelly take on a part of the work.

Red, blue, gold, black, and white; these colors do clash. However, in clashing, they blend. Student Life, Teachers, Organizations, Sports, and Students — they all often clash. Often, through clashing, they blend; and through this blending come new ideas and new people who want to give of themselves to others. From Kellam comes America, and America is Kellam.
